The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday September 13. to Saturday September 17. 1743.

Extract of a Letter from an Officer in the Camp before Egra, dated the 8th of September 1743, publiſhed by Authority at Bruſſels.

THE Garriſon at Egra have at laſt ſurrendred themſelves Priſoners of War. The Demand they made of not being ſent into Hungary hath been granted them, but they are to remain in Bohemia, and to be diſtributed into the Towns of Pilſen, Mies, and Rokitzan. The Officers could not obtain Leave to return into France upon their Parole, and they are obliged to remain near their Troops. They are to keep their Baggage, but as to the reſt they are all to march out without their Arms. Yeſterday the 7th, they delivered up one Gate of the Town, which the firſt Company of the Grenadiers of the Regiment of Wurmbrand took Poſſeſſion of. This Company raiſed great Admiration in the French Officers. They conſeſs they did not expect to find, during a long and fatiguing War, any Men in ſo good Condition amongſt us. They now make no Secret of the miſerable State they were reduced to, and openly declare that their Proviſions could not have laſted longer than the 13th of next Month, ſo that if we had deferr'd granting them a Capitulation a little longer, they muſt have ſurrendred at Diſcretion. The entire Evacuation of the Place is to be made the 10th of this Month, upon which Occaſion the Regiments of Infantry of Wurmbrand, Schulenbourg, Sirmay and Bethlem are to be under Arms. The laſt of theſe Regiments, and 800 Croats, are to conduct the Priſoners to the Places where they are to remain; the firſt Battalion of Schulenbourg is to be put into Garriſon at Egra, and the two others are deſigned for that of Amberg. It is alſo believed that the Regiment of Sirmay, and our Croats will march into Bavaria, and that the Regiment of Wurmbrand will be ordered to the Army of the moſt Serene Prince Charles upon the Rhine. The Regiments of Lubomirzki Cuiraſſiers, and Feſtetitz's Huſſars will take the ſame Route. The former has begun its march this Day, and will be followed To-morrow by the ſaid Huſſars.

Old Briſac, September 13, N. S. Nothing of Conſequence has paſſed ſince the 10th. The French have endeavoured to ruin our Bridge, by turning adrift down the River ſome floating Machines with Bombs upon them, but they did no Damage. We have cannonaded each other continually. They have killed ſome few Men, and broken two Boats of our Bridge, and pierced the Bridge itſelf; but it was immediately repaired. The French are now hard at Word in raiſing, as is thought, Bomb Batteries by the Head of their Bridge, from which, if they can perfect them, they will eaſily ruin ours. They have ſent off ſome Troops To-day towards Prince Waldeck, and we have ſent him a new Reinforcement of Artillery and Boats. We are every Day building Veſſels at Fribourg, where they finiſh Six in a Day. Marſhal Khevenhuller has been out again to reconnoitre the Courſe of the Rhine, and we are perſuaded the Paſſage will be attempted coſt what it will.

Copenhagen, Sept. 17. The Preparations for War ſtill continue. General Arnold has now taken Leave, and is returning to his Charge in Norway.

On the 17th of May, upon Intelligence of a Privateer hovering on the North Side of the Iſland, Sir Chaloner ſent out his Tender after her, with 60 Men, under the Command of Mr. Graves his ſecond Lieutenant, who met with the Privateer on the 6th of June, and after a ſmart Action of ſome Hours, took her. She was called the Phœnix of St. Jago, had four Carriage and ten Swivel Guns, with 65 Men.

On the 19th of May the Greenwich returned to Port Royal from a Cruize off Carthagena, in which ſhe had taken 10,000 Dollars out of a Ship ſhe met with, which were owned to be Spaniſh Effects.

On the 7th of June the St. Albans returned to Jamaica from a Cruize, with a large Spaniſh Settee called the Noſtra Senora de Monſerrate, of 18 Carriage Guns and 20 Swivels, taken about nine Leagues to Windward of Carthagena, to which Place ſhe was bound from Cadiz, and had near 200 Men on board, of which 57 were Eccleſiaſticks. She at firſt made a Shew of Reſiſtance, by firing ſeveral Shot at the Man of War, but ſoon ran aſhore, to give the People an Opportunity of making their Eſcape, which moſt of them did; but the St. Albans got the Veſſel off, and ſhe proves a conſiderable Prize.
